DISCOVERY DEADLINES AND 19 ORDER (FRCP 16(b)(4)) THE HOME DEPOT U.S.A., INC.; et Trial Date: November 22, 2023 20 Defendants. 21 22 Plaintiffs KENNETH PRESBA and KRIS PRESBA and Defendant HOME 23 24 DEPOT, U.S.A., INC., through their respective counsel have met and conferred concerning discovery, settlement, mediation, and the current discovery deadlines. | Jury Trial | November 22, 2023 at 9 am | Unchanged |
| Jury Selection | November 27, 2023 at 9 am | Unchanged |

The good cause for seeking the modification to the scheduling order to extend discovery and expert disclosure deadlines is as follows: the attorney at Goodman Neuman Hamilton LLP who had been handling this case, Paige Yeh, left the firm unexpectedly as of December 13, 2022. As of that date, Joshua S. Goodman undertook the handling of this case and has meet and conferred with counsel for Plaintiffs about the status of discovery, settlement and mediation. During those discussions, it became apparent that the parties desired to attempt to resolve this matter through settlement discussions and if need by through private mediation. The parties desire some additional time to explore settlement without having to undergo the time and expense of expert disclosure and discovery, including and independent medical examination of Plaintiff KENNETH PRESBA.

The parties are not seeking to modify or extend the deadline to complete expert discovery or any motion deadlines, and are not seeking to modify the dates for the Final Pre-trial Conference or jury trial. The parties believe that allowing additional time to complete fact discovery and to disclose experts will allow them to focus on settlement and will make settlement more likely by limiting the expenses both parties will incur in completing discovery and disclosing experts.
